Anti-Red Flare Up In Cuba

Most Spectacular
Demonstration
Is Big Switch

HAVANA (AP) — "Cuba si, Russia no!" shouted crowds of Roman Catholics after an anti-Communist mass Sunday at Havana's cathedral. It was the most spectacular anti-Red demonstration since Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime took the turn to the left.

It was a switch from the "Cuba si! Yankees no!" chanted by Castro's followers on every occasion. Churchgoers vented their feelings against the government trend after a mass dedicated to "victims of Communist persecution."

A handful of hecklers had to be rescued by a police car when they shouted "Cuba si! Yankees no!" at the throng which poured into Cathedral Square after the mass. Men and women pounded on the police car with fists and pocket-books as the hecklers were escorted to safety.

Two uniformed but unarmed militiamen got the same treatment and had to be rescued by police.

Prime Minister Castro, reported mending after a lung infection, continued silent as the thorny dispute between his regime and the United States moved into world and regional organizations.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa was to present a two-hour complaint against the United States in the U.N. Security Council today, charging U.S. economic and military aggression against Castro's revolution. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had a one-hour defense ready.

After the exchange of speeches, the two Latin American members of the council, Argentina and Ecuador, planned to propose referring the dispute to the Organization of American States. The Havana Communist newspaper Hoy said any attempt to place the Cuban-American dispute before the OAS rather than the U.N. was a trap.

Cuban Defense Minister Raul Castro, Fidel's brother, arrived in Moscow Sunday. He is believed to be seeking more economic and military aid from the Soviet Union. It was considered likely his visit also would include discussion of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plans to visit Cuba soon.

Khrushchev already has pledged help for the island nation in its dispute with the United States. The U.S. administration in turn has warned the Communists that the Monroe Doctrine is still very much alive and the United States will not tolerate Communist interference in Latin American affairs.

Stratophic Probe Made by a Balloon

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — A huge balloon soared 25 miles above the earth Sunday, probed the stratosphere for information on cosmic rays, and then radioed the data to scientists on the ground.

Air Force teams here today were evaluating the information, which will help them understand the hazards to be faced by any man sent into space. Most of it was telemetered while the balloon drifted over Minnesota, North Dakota, and Montana at altitudes up to 133,000 feet.

US Plans Nuclear Blasts Underground

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plans 11 small underground nuclear explosions and possibly 21 blasts with conventional explosives during the next two years.

The purpose of the explosions—first nuclear tests of any kind by this country since late 1958—is to improve methods of detecting subsurface atomic blasts.

The Joint Senate-House Atomic Committee made public Sunday a Defense Department document specifying the number of shots planned. On May 7 President Eisenhower had announced there would be a new series of underground tests.

US-Cuba Charges To UN

Council To Hear Both Sides Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba and the United States bring their charges and countercharges of economic aggression before the U.N. Security Council today.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa had a two-hour speech ready in support of his government's complaint against the United States. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge prepared a one-hour reply.

After this exchange, Argentina and Ecuador were expected to propose that the 11-nation council suspend consideration of the dispute while the Organization of American States takes it up.

Diplomats said that if Cuba opposed this proposal and its friend the Soviet Union voted against it, Mario Amadeo of Argentina and Jose A. Correa of Ecuador would argue the resolution was procedural and therefore the negative Soviet vote did not count as a veto. But Amadeo and Correa were reported hopeful of winning Cuba over—and thus avoiding a Soviet negative vote—by putting a provision into the resolution calling for conciliation.

In his complaint to the council last Monday, the Cuban foreign minister accused the United States of "a policy of intervention in Cuba's domestic affairs and of economic aggression." He said international peace was endangered by its "repeated threats, harassments, intrigues, reprisals and aggressive acts."

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime also charged the United States had given Cuban war criminals facilities for plotting against the Cuban revolution, that planes from the United States had caused death and damage in Cuba, and that President Eisenhower and other officials had made statements "derogatory to our self-determination."

Hits Kennedy Religion

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The first vice president of the Southern Baptist Convention, the Rev. W.O. Vaught, Sunday night called Roman Catholicism and communism the two most "deadly threats" to world freedom.

"If John Kennedy sits in the White House," Vaught told his congregation, "he'll sit there over my protest."

Congo for the first time since the post-independence unrest. Earlier Belgian paratroopers, flown from their homeland, took over control of the Leopoldville airport after a brief skirmish with the Congolese forces.

Light Plane Crash Kills Young Pilot

John W. Moorman, 22, an airman assigned to Richards-Gebaur AFB near Kansas City, was killed Saturday night in the crash of a T-34 primary trainer plane six miles northeast of Warrensburg. He was traveling alone.

Officials at the scene said he was bound for Springfield, Ill. and left Richards-Gebaur at 5:15. He crashed 40 minutes after takeoff. The cause was not immediately determined.

The single engine craft belonged to the Aero Club at the base. Moorman was a member of the club.

Officials at the scene said the landing gear had not been lowered and were led to believe that the airman was attempting a forced landing in the wheat field where he crashed. The plane apparently stalled and crashed nose first into the field but did not burn.

The body was taken to the Whiteman AFB hospital. Moorman was a licensed pilot and had flown more than 100 solo hours.

It could not be determined why he was going to Springfield. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loris L. Moorman, Converse, Ind.

Young Flier Thought Lost, Found Touring An Airplane Factory

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—Aviation enthusiast Edward Miller, 16, of Calistoga, Calif., leisurely toured an airplane factory here today, unaware that he was the object of a search.

Miller stayed overnight at the Sedalia Memorial Airport Friday night.

The youth set his small Taylorcraft down at Municipal Airport late Sunday after a flight from Phillipsburg, Pa., on his cross-country trip from his home town, near San Francisco.

Others were expecting him in Cooperstown, N. Y., and this brought on frantic checks at airports in the belief the young flyer was missing.

Cuban Pilot Takes Over An Airliner

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — A Cubana Air Lines plane, carrying 52 passengers bound to Miami, was landed here Sunday night on orders of a pilot who said "I had to flee Cuba because Communists have taken over my country."

The pilot is Jose Perez Menendez, 41.

Authorities were told he pulled a pistol soon after the plane left Havana and forced the first officer, Guido Colli, 35, to head to this Caribbean island.

Cuban Consul Heriberto Clews declared Perez Menendez had been paid $50,000 in Miami to divert the plane. He declared he has proof. He said the incident was promoted by "an international ring led by a foreign capitalist whose only aim is to spread malicious propaganda against the Cuban government."

Here Perez Menendez said Communists were in command of his company and Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

"Castro and all his top men are Communists," the pilot declared. "Thousands are rotting in jail while many foreigners in Cuba, in the guise of technicians, are in reality Communists from Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia and China."

"Castro wants to rule all the Caribbean and Latin America. I warn all those countries they must be alerted to the Communist threat," he said.

Investigating Downed RB47 Crew's Party

LONDON (AP) — British and American intelligence agents have been investigating a party thrown by the crew of the RB47 American reconnaissance plane the night before it was shot down.

The party was at the picturesque 16th century inn, the Elephant and Castle, in the sleepy village of Bampton-in-the-Bushes, besides the Thames.

There were reports that ever since the Soviet Union announced shooting down the RB47, U. S. intelligence agents have wondered if Soviet spies in Britain got word of the flight.

If they did Arthur Scott-Norman, the innkeeper, said he is satisfied it didn't happen in his bar.

"You can take it from me they were not merry or anything like that," he said. "They were as discreet as ever, not saying a word about where they were going."

Beside the six crewmen of the RB47, the wives of two of them were in the party. The innkeeper and four members of his staff joined them at dinner. Four of the airmen signed the visitors' book.

He said that the airmen had planned another celebration party for the night of July 2—"When we've done our jobs."

They didn't return. Four of the crewmen, the Soviet Union reported, were dead. The other two were being held.

The United States, backed by Britain, claims the RB47 was shot down over the high seas. This heightened speculation that the plane's meeting with a Soviet intercepter plane was more than chance or coincidence. The Soviet Union claimed the plane intruded into Soviet air space.

Gen. Von Horn Takes Charge Of UN Troops

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Swedish Maj. Gen. Carl von Horn today took command of U.N. military forces in the Congo as Congolese officials threatened to ask Soviet troops to intervene.

Von Horn and his staff arrived from Palestine. Troops for his force were already on hand from four African nations—Ghana, Tunisia, Morocco and Ethiopia—but most of the job of trying to restore order will fall on the 6,000 Belgian troops fanned out over the vast new central African nation.

The continued presence of the Belgian troops angered the government of Premier Patrice Lumumba, and a Cabinet minister announced that the Soviet Union would be asked to send in troops unless Belgium withdrew her forces within three days. The Belgians made no move to comply.

Western officials were gravely concerned over the development.

The Congolese minister charged the U.N. force was not competent. The U.N. Security Council, prodded by the Soviet Union, is expected to meet Tuesday for a report on implementation of its resolution calling on Belgium to withdraw its troops from The Congo.

The Belgians had told the Council they would not pull back until the U.N. force could protect the thousands of European settlers in the former Belgian territory. (At President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at Newport, R.I., White House press secretary James C. Hagerty declined

Congo Talks Of Seeking Soviet Aid

Say UN Peace Forces Incompetent for Task

STANLEYVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The Congo government threatened Sunday night to appeal for Soviet military aid to kick out Belgian troops unless they withdraw within three days.

A minister of Premier Patrice Lumumba's government charged that the United Nations peace task force pouring into the country is incompetent to deal with the situation.

The U.N. Security Council, prodded by the Soviet Union, is expected to meet Tuesday for a report on implementation of a resolution calling on Belgium to withdraw its troops from The Congo.

Gen. Henry T. Alexander, British commander of Ghana's army and head of its contribution to the U.N. force, said the situation in the infant African republic had "worsened all over."

Alexander flew from Leopoldville to this picturesque city 775 miles north of the capital Sunday to plant the U.N. flag and confer with Premier Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubu.

The disclosure that the Congolese leaders were planning to invite the Soviet Union to send troops came from Jacques Lumumba, one of nine secretaries of state in the government and leader of the left-wing faction in the regime.

Shocked by the leakage of his government's strategy, Lumumba upbraided Lumumba before newsmen and told him, "I will take the most serious measures against you."

The premier, 34, did not deny the plan, and it was learned reliably his government already has drafted a telegram for sending to Moscow.

The Soviet Union approved the sending of a U.N. task force to restore order in the turbulent Congo but at the same time condemned "imperialist intervention" in the African nation. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last week promised Congolese leaders "the necessary help which may be required for the victory of your just cause."

Congolese leaders blamed the troubles in the country on the presence of Belgian troops, who showed no signs of withdrawing.

Even as Lumumba was conferring Sunday with Gen. Alexander, he got word that five paratroops of Belgian paratroops were dropped into Kindu, about 325 miles south of Stanleyville, to disarm Congolese troops in that river port on the banks of the Lualaba.

Demanding that something be done, Lumumba told the general: "That is a situation created in The Congo by Belgian troops." Actually the disorders commenced and the Belgians intervened when units of the The Congo's army mutinied against their white Belgian officers.

Alexander brought only a token force of 20 Ghanaian troops with him. Dressed in British-type uniforms with black berets and carrying rifles, they got a smiling reception from Congolese soldiers at the airport. But the Congolese still ran the show.

Alexander flew to Stanleyville after Belgians in Leopoldville had told him they planned to drop paratroops in the city.

The general found Congolese patrols cruising the streets with rifles and machine guns mounted on vehicles, but otherwise the city appeared calm. Tension ran high, however, and white settlers showed fright.

After a six-hour visit, Alexander returned to Leopoldville, taking with him 17 English men, women and children. Embassy officials said missionaries in the Stanleyville area had decided to stay.

Two Belgian aircraft—a military helicopter and a Harvard escort plane—were reported missing in the Leopoldville area. Each carrying a crew of two, they set out Sunday for Lukula, 80 miles southwest of Leopoldville, to pick up white refugees. Belgian officials suggested they may have been shot down by anti-aircraft guns.

Over the weekend, the U.N. task force in Leopoldville swelled to more than 2,000. Latest arrivals were 300 Ethiopian soldiers wearing American-style helmets and carrying infantry weapons.

Plans call for building up the U.N. force to about 6,000 men within two weeks. But a Belgian

TRIAL SET — Aug. 17 has been fixed for the trial of Francis Gary Powers, 30, the American U2 pilot shot down over Soviet territory May 1, the Soviet news agency Tass said today. Powers is charged with espionage, for which the maximum sentence is death by shooting. The pilot will be tried in open court before the military section of the Supreme Court of the U.S.S.R., Tass said. (AP Wirephoto)

Japan Elects Hayato Ikeda To High Post

TOKYO (AP) — Tough, outspoken Hayato Ikeda, 60, was elected Prime Minister of Japan today and immediately faced an explosive left-wing crisis at a strife-torn Kyushu coal mine.

The financial expert won overwhelming approval over two Socialist opponents in both houses of Parliament to succeed Nobusuke Kishi, who stepped out after 3½ years in office. Kishi is recovering from leg-stab wounds inflicted by a rightist assailant July 14.

Ikeda began selecting his Cabinet for installation within a few days.

A continuation of pro-Western policies through alliance with America is assured, although the government is expected to be short-lived. New nationwide parliamentary elections are planned this fall.

Ikeda's election never was in doubt. The Liberal-Democratic party, which has sizable majorities in both houses of Parliament, chose him last week to succeed Kishi as party president. The majority party president traditionally heads the government.

Ikeda, trade and industry minister in Kishi's Cabinet, has pledged to restore Japan's international prestige damaged by left-wing riots in May and June, and to pursue a "soft" policy of negotiation with the Socialist party.

But battle lines are already drawn for a bloody clash—possibly Tuesday—between 13,000 police and 30,000 to 100,000 striking workers, Communists and radical students entrenched behind barbed wire at the Miike Coal Mine in Kyushu.

A showdown appeared to be shaping up between the authority of police, trying to enforce a court injunction to clear out the strikers, and the same rebellious forces that kept Japan in turmoil with violent demonstrations against the U.S.-Japanese security treaty.

Mt. Etna Eruption Subsides Temporarily

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—Molten lava flowed down the slopes of Mt. Etna today, but the rumble and explosions that accompanied the eruption subsided at least temporarily.

Etna, Europe's highest active volcano, erupted again unday, sending a mushroom-like cloud miles into the air, obscuring the sun, and causing panic both on the island of Sicily and on the Italian mainland.

A NEW PEDIATRIC WARD has been built in the old part of Bothwell Hospital on the second floor. A group of small rooms converted into one large, attractive room solely for the children. There are five children's beds with sides which may be pulled up to make crib-type beds for the younger ones, and there is one smaller bed. Robbie

Time to Grow Up

Since television entered the political arena, we've heard many promises that our national conventions would be modernized and streamlined. But the crust of custom and tradition is hard to scale off.

The nominating speeches and demonstrations at the Democratic convention in Los Angeles consumed nearly seven hours. One trembles to think what it would have been without the allegedly determined effort to "hold it down."

There really is no excuse today for an endless string of seconding speeches. Some other, quicker way needs to be found to give the lesser politicians their brief moment in the TV sun.

Evidently we will always have the favorite sons with us. They are the men who feel they need the national spotlight for home area political purposes, or who want by this means to keep their delegates in line.

But it ought to be possible for their state to vote for them after only the most perfunctory introduction of their names. Nothing is more tiresome than a nationwide recital of the virtues of men who will never be national figures.

As for the demonstrations, they have become hopelessly artificial, mechanical and heartless. They are a ritual out of the past, when this nation was younger, less sophisticated, more naturally boisterous.

In the beginning, demonstrations belonged to the delegates. They were genuine outbursts. Even as late as 1940, delegates poured into the aisles, fought over state banners, paraded madly up and down. But since then the steam has gone out.

Today we merely see the expected motions, the calculated, contrived noises. Often the delegates make up the smallest part of the demonstrators. The others are hired or volunteer spear-carriers, like the paid mourners at a Chinese funeral.

Many times youngsters dominate the marches. Now and then the recruits have been pretty seedy, as if truck-loads had been imported from the local skid row.

The whole thing has the organized synthetic look. Not only is it largely meaningless, it is almost totally out of keeping with the spirit of the times. And, set against the sober backdrop of a worsened international situation, in 1960 the entire ritual appeared downright ridiculous.

The year 1960 ought to see the last of it. Some will complain that to eliminate demonstrations will drain conventions of their color. But artificial coloring never interests or impresses anyone for long.

The real color of conventions is in their human conflicts. Many never develop this drama and excitement. But the potential is always there, and that is all we as a nation ought reasonably to hope for.

In this age the picking of presidential nominees has ceased to be a carnival. It's time everyone recognized the fact.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

GOP Faces Vigorous Campaign Fight

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Vice President Nixon sent a personal observer to Los Angeles, Eddie McGinnis, to report to him on both backstage and frontstage developments at the Democratic national convention. McGinnis is a former kingmaker of the American Legion, former sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, and is now Washington representative for Seagrams whiskey and a member of the Battle Monuments Commission. He is a shrewd observer of the American political scene.

While I have not been privileged to read Mr. McGinnis's report I strongly suspect that he will report that the Republicans have one general challenge to worry about and one general development to be grateful for, as a result of the Democratic convention. They are:

THE CHALLENGE—If Jack Kennedy is as shrewd, tough and able in conducting his presidential campaign as he was in getting the nomination, the Republicans will have the fight of their lives.

Despite his age, Kennedy didn't make a single major mistake in directing his nomination strategy and he directed it himself. He proved himself what the White House hasn't had for some time—an executive. He surrounded himself with able subordinates, used a brain trust to supply ideas. But he made the decisions, and he made them quickly and to the point.

In an election campaign, as in running the government or handling foreign affairs, you have to foresee problems and meet them in advance, not wait until they pile up on you. Kennedy met them in advance.

Long before convention time, he or his brother or his father had warmed up such key figures as Congressman Bill Green, boss of Philadelphia; Terry Sanford, the next governor of North Carolina; Gov. George Docking of Kansas, and Gov. Herschel Lovelace of Iowa. Some of them needed campaign contributions. The Kennedy family is wealthy and obliging. All this was taken care of in advance. So, at the right time, these key figures fell in line when the votes were needed most.

Tactics Superb

Another piece of planning which wouldn't seem important to the public. Kennedy had a liaison man assigned to every delegation. One of his men was in touch with each delegation every hour of the day and reachable by Kennedy headquarters every half hour. Kennedy knew several days in advance how each delegation was talking and thinking. Thus he was able to send pressure-lobbyists, especially the labor leaders, into key state delegations when the tide at one point started drifting against him.

Kennedy's psychological warfare tactics were superb though unfair and deceptive. His public relations crew peppered the Los Angeles press and radio with handouts making it appear that the battle was won even before the convention opened.

Helpless delegates, wandering around in far-flung, disjointed Los Angeles had no way of knowing the opposite. Most of them didn't know for instance that when Gov. J. H. Edmondson of Oklahoma announced for Kennedy, it didn't mean a thing, because the governor couldn't control more than half a vote—his own—within the Oklahoma delegation. But the papers announced that Oklahoma was for Kennedy so most delegates believed it.

Smart Press Crew

Nor did most of them know that Gov. John Patterson of Alabama had been for Kennedy for a solid year, and that he controlled only five votes. So when Kennedy's smart press experts announced that the governor of Alabama was for Kennedy as if it was real hot news Los Angeles papers played it as if the solid south was broken again. Many delegates believed it.

This is the kind of press relations used by the Russians right now to make Europe think our July 1 observation plane was shot down over Russian soil, when it wasn't. It's deceptive but it works, if you keep hammering away at it. Kennedy kept hammering hard and skillfully. That's how he had the nomination just about sewed up before the balloting started.

HAPPY DEVELOPMENT FOR GOP—On the other hand McGinnis will doubtless report to Vice President Nixon that the Democratic party at Los Angeles was shown before the public more nakedly than at any time since 1928 for what it really is—a loose confederation of labor leaders, southern principalities and Irish big-city bosses, none of them having too much sympathy with the other.

And just as this marriage, a marriage of convenience between labor, the south, and Catholic leaders, fell apart during the Al Smith campaign of 1928, Republican observers will report that there is a strong possibility that it can fall apart again. Franklin D. Roosevelt, master leader and politician, has been the only man who has kept it together on a national scale since 1912 when a split between right and left-wing Republicans gave victory to Woodrow Wilson.

Actually this Democratic confederation began falling apart in Los Angeles right before the eyes of the delegates, though most of them didn't know it. It started falling when Gov. Pat Brown, first Democratic governor of California in two decades, was booed more than any other man. His own party is split wide open—largely over Kennedy—and Brown cannot be re-elected. A lot of other Democratic governors will go down the drain in November because of the battle scars incurred in Los Angeles. This will be discussed in an early column.

HEBRON (Neb.) JOURNAL-REGISTER—Pants To Hold Up.—At the present time, it looks like this country is in about the same predicament as the fellow who "had both hands full and his pants to hold up." In fact, you might say the whole world is about in the same boat. These war toys they play with now are for keeps and can bring eternity to the whole globe in nothing flat. The good Book says something about fire destroying the world the next time. Well, the set-up is perfect. And it will take a lot more than a Democrat or a Republican to stop it. It will require ALL the subjects of the United States of America and their allies.

Think It Through

By E. F. SUTTON

THE ENEMY UNMASKED—It is a terrible thing that hundreds of millions of Asians are being stirred to hate Americans, — to hate you and me! What have you or I done to hurt a single one of them?

To inflame millions of young minds with hate is to light fires that will burn a long time — perhaps for generations. For when men hate others, they become impervious to any efforts for understanding and reconciliation. Their minds are closed.

As Lunarcharsky, former Russian Commissioner of Education, said: "We hate Christians. Even the best of them must be considered our worst enemies. They preach love of one's neighbor and mercy, which is contrary to our principles. Christian love is an obstacle to the development of the Revolution. Down with love of our neighbor. What we want is hate. Only then can we conquer the universe."

Khrushchev's billingsgate against Eisenhower at Paris was to inflame his otherwise friendly people to hate us. The vile slogans on placards, newspaper headlines and radio in Peking and Tokyo were to stir up hate, the most powerful force, the Communists believe, that exists in the world.

The one thing we can salvage out of the wreck in Paris and Tokyo is to become more aware than ever before of what we are up against, and will be, for years to come.

Americans are friendly people. But when the Reds talk of "peaceful coexistence," we let our guard down.

Rough and Tough Campaign Coming

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1960 presidential campaign will be the roughest and toughest in years. It has already started that way.

In his acceptance speech Friday night Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic Presidential candidate, could have been strictly noble, leaving the gunplay till later.

Instead, he used the first speech of his campaign to make a savage attack on Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who almost certainly will get the Republican presidential nomination next week.

It was like deliberately warning Nixon he was in for a bad time. Kennedy, who acts cool, is a tough young man as he showed in his determined and successful effort to get the Democratic nomination.

His attack on Nixon was a shocker to newsmen who are used to the antics and tactics of politicians, not because it happened, since that was to be expected some time, but because it happened so early in the campaign.

Nixon himself knows what playing rough means. He has played so rough in the past that some Democrats, and none more than former President Truman, despise him.

Then there's Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Kennedy's running mate for the vice presidency. Johnson is no patsy, either. He got rough on Kennedy—some people thought too rough—before the Massachusetts senator beat him for the No. 1 place on the ticket.

Knowing Johnson, as this writer does, it seems safe to say he won't pull any punches, particularly on Nixon, who has given the Democrats such a bawny going over so many times in the past.

Ever since the 1954 congressional campaign, when his tactics left scars which still infuriate the Democrats, Nixon has been a fairly restrained campaigner. The Democrats refer sneeringly to the post-1954 Nixon as the "new Nixon."

It's doubtful Nixon will be able to restrain himself this year if the Democrats go for his throat as Kennedy did when last Friday he spoke of the vice president as sometimes showing "charity toward none and malice for all."

Kennedy said that before Nixon starts dealing in this campaign, someone had "better cut the cards." The fact that Kennedy didn't have to do this kind of thing so early in the campaign, but chose to, is a pretty good indication he will try to chop the Republican candidate to bits.

The Democrats' treatment of Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956 was fairly mild for a campaign. But they had to be careful since Eisenhower was a highly popular war hero.

Nixon doesn't enjoy such broad affection if only because, like Kennedy, he didn't have the same wartime distinction.

Some of the ammunition Nixon used against Democrats in the past—by playing on public fear that Communists might be infiltrating the government—has pretty well dried up. Communists-in-government is hardly an issue in 1960.

For instance, in 1954 he said the Communists were fighting hard for an anti-Eisenhower Congress—which could only mean a Democratic Congress—because, he said, many Democratic candidates belonged to a left-wing clique which "tolerated" a Communist conspiracy.

Paul M. Butler, then chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said Nixon was implying the Democrats were traitors.

This year Nixon can hardly suggest the two wealthy Democratic candidates—Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, and Johnson, a Texas Conservative—have any sympathy for Communism.

What he will probably try to do is poke holes in the Kennedy-Johnson voting records. They'll certainly try to do that to him. But that will be only the starting point.

Weight of Public Opinion Sidelines Leprosy Threat

By Harold Thomas Hyman, D.D.

Although you may find it difficult to believe, the weight of public opinion may be the determining factor in the control—or lack of control—of an infectious disease.

In this column, I'll tell you how an aroused public opinion has resulted in the near-eradication of a dread infection for which medical science has neither a protective vaccine nor a curative drug.

In the next column, I'll tell how a lagging public opinion is helping to keep alive a group of revolting infections for which medicine has effective remedies.

Public fear of leprosy has resulted in the near-eradication of this disease that cannot be prevented by vaccine nor cured by drugs.

Since Biblical times, leprosy has been associated in the public mind with deformity, deformity, crippling, filth, moral delinquency and the "curse of God" (Leviticus 13; Numbers 12). And since Biblical times, it has been treated with isolation and/or banishment (Leviticus 14).

The facts that the leper "is not a moral delinquent and the curse of God is not upon him" (American Leprosy Mission), that the disease is unrelated to filth and that it is very slightly contagious appear to have made little impression on public reaction to the affliction.

Missionaries and physicians who tend the leprosy rarely contact the disease although they seem to take few precautions.

Wives and children of lepers who remain in leper colonies with their husbands and/or fathers do not often suffer infection. And it was more than 10 years before the saintly Father Damien addressed his parishioners as "we lepers."

Yet there is no community in our midst that would give sanctuary to a leper even though his infection might have been effectively controlled by treatment with the newer drugs.

So persuasive is what is called the "mythology" of the affliction that efforts are being presently made to refer to the infection as Hansen's disease (Hansen discovered the causative bacillus).

But not how the community has profited through the unjust suffering inflicted on the individual patient.

When members of the 64th Congress were told that the infection was communicable and might be "transmitted from infectious cases to well individuals" and that "where the factors influencing spread exist, new cases will develop, North or South," they enacted a bill that required "any person afflicted with leprosy" to be "duly consigned to said home (the National Leprosarium) by the proper health authorities of any state, territory, or the District of Columbia" (1920).

With this Act of Congress, that never could have been passed or enforced without solid public support, leprosy ceased to become a threat to our citizenry. Approximately 50 patients are admitted yearly to the Leprosarium whose population numbers few native-born Americans.

Thus the accomplishment of an enlightened public.

Calls Catholicism And Communism World's Great Threats

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The first vice president of the Southern Baptist Convention, the Rev. W.O. Vaught, Sunday night called Roman Catholicism and communism the two most "deadly threats" to world freedom.

"If John Kennedy sits in the White House," Vaught told his congregation, "he'll sit there over my protest."

Kennedy, senator from Massachusetts, was nominated for the presidency by the Democratic National Convention last week. He is the first Catholic nominated since Alfred E. Smith of New York in 1928. Smith was defeated by Herbert Hoover.

59 Counties Ordered To Up Assessments

A total of 59 counties have been ordered by the state Tax Commission to increase personal property assessments for tax purposes.

Increases affect three classes of personal property, cattle, hogs and motor vehicles. Some of the 59 counties must increase assessments only on one of the classes; others on more than one.

The increases range from five per cent to 85 per cent, the highest being that on hogs in Putnam County.

The action by the commission is designed to equalize the valuation of each class among the respective counties of the state, thus making for a fair distribution of the tax burden.

Equalization this year was based upon an aggregate valuation for tax purposes of $36 for cattle; $8 for hogs; and $300 for motor vehicles. The aggregate was arrived at from reports of the more than 400 county and township assessors throughout the state, not including St. Louis, St. Louis County, nor Jackson County.

The state Tax Commission has not issued any orders this year to increase assessments for tax purposes on real property. According to J. R. Towson, administrative secretary to the commission, a thorough study is planned later and some orders can be expected next year. Towson explains that in face of an unusually heavy work load last year coupled with a lack of personnel, the commission was prevented from collecting the kind of evidence needed on real property this time. Meanwhile, though, counties previously ordered to increase real property assessments for tax purposes will continue to be checked.

The state Tax Commission lists the grand total taxable wealth of Missouri at nearly 7½-billion dollars, the highest in history. As might be expected, biggest valuation of the state for taxes is for real estate, a total of somewhat more than five billion dollars. Value of personal property for taxes is next at somewhat more than a billion dollars.

Gas Tax Case Set by Court
The case of the Thunder Oil Co. vs the City of Sunset Hills which involves the legality of a city tax on gasoline, is scheduled to be heard by Division One of the Missouri Supreme Court on September 21. The case is on appeal by Sunset Hills from St. Louis County Circuit Court. The circuit judge threw out Sunset Hills' gasoline tax, calling the tax ordinance "an abuse of taxing power and shocking to the conscience of the court."

If the Supreme Court should uphold the decision, down the drain probably would go gasoline tax ordinances in a majority of the 110 Missouri cities now levying such taxes.

Sunset Hills gasoline tax is levied as a "monthly license" and is determined at the sum of one cent a gallon. Sunset Hills also has a merchants license tax for other retail places of business determined at a rate of $1 on each $1000 or fractional part thereof for retail sales.

In his decision, the circuit judge pointed out that if filling stations were required to pay the regular merchants license tax as other retail businesses, rather than a "monthly license", their tax would amount to more than $35,000 a year less.

The circuit judge held that the gasoline tax ordinance was not enacted to provide for payment of a reasonable license fee for the privilege of engaging in the sale of gasoline in order to pay for the reasonable cost and expense of regulation of such business, like the merchants tax, but was enacted instead to raise revenue to pay general city expenses.

He concluded that the gasoline tax of Sunset Hills "is an attempt . . . to tax gasoline as a commodity, while having no specific statutory authority to do so and to call it a license is to engage in subterfuge; that said ordinance is an unreasonable, unjust, illegal and discriminatory tax against . . . those engaged in the business of selling motor fuel, gasoline and in favor of those engaged in other businesses or occupations. . . ."

Brucellosis Program Moves Steadily Ahead

Though slowed somewhat by a cut in funds by the last legislature, Missouri's Brucellosis Control and Eradication program is moving steadily ahead with 63 counties now certified "brucellosis free."

Last year at this time, a total of 38 counties had been certified.

Presently, initial testing has been completed in eight additional counties and these merely await formal certification; testing is going on in 13 more; 13 others have requested testing; 11 are trying to get enough signatures on petitions to request testing; and there is no activity in six counties. However, four of the latter are in Southeast Missouri from whence assurance has come to the state veterinarian in charge of the program that they will come into the program just as soon as he has personnel available. This may be in the Fall.

The program began on a compulsory basis in April of 1956. It includes inspection and testing by the state Department of Agriculture of an area so as to insure it "brucellosis free." It was hoped by the department to have the entire state certified at the end of the present biennium, but another year has been added because of lack of funds.

Insect Situation

Grasshoppers—Generally speaking, grasshoppers populations remain low. However, there are certain sections of the state, particularly extreme southwestern and extreme southeastern counties, where hoppers are causing some marginal injury to row crops. As long as dry weather continues in these areas, injury can be expected to continue and become more severe as the hoppers reach the adult stage.

For control, spray field margins and waste lands with any of the following materials and rates per acre. Observe intervals between application and harvest of crops and do not feed treated crops to dairy animals.

Four ounces aldrin (1/4 pint 45 per cent emulsifiable concentrate)
1 1/2 ounces dieldrin (one pint 15 per cent dieldrin emulsifiable concentrate)

Two pounds toxaphene (2 and two-thirds pints 65 per cent toxaphene emulsifiable concentrate)

For spraying alfalfa or clover for grasshoppers, use two pints 57 per cent malathion emulsifiable concentrate per acre. A period of at least seven days should elapse between spraying of alfalfa or clover and harvest.

Pastures being used by dairy cattle can be sprayed with two pints 57 per cent malathion emulsifiable concentrate per acre provided that a period of at least seven days elapse between spraying and the use of the pastures.

Pastures being used by beef cattle can be sprayed with toxaphene without a waiting interval between application and use provided six weeks elapse between the time the cattle are off the pasture and slaughter.

Garden webworms continue to damage small corn in several of the southwestern counties. These worms are very common on pig and careless weeds and as soon as these weeds are cultivated or sprayed out, increasing webworm damage to the small corn will occur.

For control, spray with either two pounds toxaphene (2 and two-thirds pints 65 per cent toxaphene emulsifiable concentrate) or four ounces dieldrin (1 and one-third pints 15 per cent dieldrin emulsifiable concentrate) per acre. Best results are obtained by using drop nozzles between the rows and one nozzle over the row.

Chinch Bugs

In several of the southwestern and west-central counties where heavy rains have not occurred, chinch bugs are causing light to severe injury to small corn and grain sorghums. Watch fields of corn and grain sorghums for signs of chinch bugs, particularly those fields that border small grains.

Since most of the migration from small grains to corn has already been completed, controls should now be concentrated on the plants that are infested.

Use dieldrin at the rate of eight ounces per acre. On small corn or sorghum, plug the nozzles between the rows and direct the spray over the row. On larger corn and sorghums plug the nozzle over the row and concentrate the spray on the lower half of the plants from the ground line up. Control is usually slow, requiring from three to five days or longer to obtain the maximum results. Corn or grain sorghums sprayed with dieldrin should not be used for silage or fed to dairy cattle or animals being finished for slaughter.

When diseased elms are cut down, they should be burned immediately to kill Dutch Elm fungus and disease-carrying insects. The Illinois plant specialist says it is possible to spray trees for control in spring and fall. However, spraying must be very thorough.

Don't Sell It Short!

Early Start Recommended For New Alfalfa Seeding

By C. M. CHRISTY
MU Soils Specialist

Don't sell alfalfa short in your operations. It can be your top livestock roughage supply. It's none too early to start now with preparations for seeding late this summer. Good fertility and seed-bed preparation will pay many times over in yield per acre, better quality and longer life.

First of all decide the acreage needed and fields to use. A half acre per cow is a good goal. If your cultivated acreage is small you may want to start with a minimum of five acres. Alfalfa makes better yields on deep, fertile, well-drained soils but can successfully be grown on less suitable soils provided they are made fertile with soil treatments.

Take an inventory with soil tests of the present fertility of the field you want to seed. The tests will guide you in using limestone, phosphate, potash and nitrogen.

Recommend Food Plots For Quail

If you want to help feed the quail next winter, now's the time to do something about it. There's still time to plant annual food plots for the quail, say University of Missouri field crops specialists.

Need for food and cover was pointed up by last winter's prolonged snow and cold. Quail populations were hurt in some areas because food was not available. Wildlife authorities say the best way to increase quail numbers is by providing adequate food and cover.

Field crops specialists recommend this seed mixture for a quarter acre food plot. One pound each of dwarf milo, dwarf hegari, and millet, plus two pounds each of soybeans and cowpeas.

Food plots should be planted near natural cover such as hedgerows, thickets, or brushy fences. Areas around farm ponds also make good food plots. Plots out in the open offer no protection from quail and other wildlife's enemies, according to the Missouri Conservation Commission.

The food plots should not be grazed. Also, for best results fertilize before seeding the plots, say the crops specialists.

A good lime situation is a must. Alfalfa is a heavy user of calcium. In addition, lime helps other nutrients do a better job. Liming, when needed, aids soil organisms take more nitrogen from the air.

Phosphorus and potassium are essential nutrients for top yields and quality. You may choose either rock phosphate or processed phosphate or a combination to do the job of fortifying your soil with phosphorus. Potash may be used in combination with phosphate in mixed fertilizer or as straight materials to supply potassium needs.

Nitrogen is essential in establishing alfalfa. The important thing is to use plenty to get the new growth off to a strong flying start. Chemical nitrogen and manures provide this nutrient. A guide to follow is to supply the new seedling with about half as much nitrogen as you would use for a good yielding corn crop on the same soil. This means 40 to 60 pounds or 50 of "N" per acre. It will do double duty of helping rot straw or other residues you may be plowing under.

A good deep job of plowing comes next. Plowing under limestone, phosphate and potash and most of the nitrogen is necessary if there are heavy residues such as straw. Disc occasionally to keep weed and grasses killed and to settle the seedbed. A cultipacker is excellent to make final preparation for seeding. The seed-bed should be firm.

Choose a productive variety and inoculate the seed. A starter fertilizer of nitrogen, phosphate and potash will give the new stand a better start.

Your success in establishing a productive stand of alfalfa will improve by using soil tests. Remember to plow needed limestone, phosphate and potash under deeply and early. Prepare a firm seed-bed, choose a good variety, and inoculate seed. Seed early with ample nitrogen, phosphate and potash as a starter for your new alfalfa seeding.

Time Is Drawing Near

Demand for a Big Supply Brings Wheat Referendum

With the marketing quota referendum for 1961-crop wheat drawing near, the total national wheat supply for the 1960-61 marketing year is now estimated at a record 2,561 million bushels, according to the latest U.S. Department of Agriculture report on the wheat situation received at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

The new record supply is 6 per cent above the previous record of a year earlier and 26 per cent above the 1954-55 average, according to Chairman C. A. Staples of the County ASC Committee. This increase primarily results from the large 1960 wheat crop in prospect—1,271 million bushels compared with the 1959 crop of 1,128 million, Mr. Staples said.

Domestic disappearance of wheat for 1960-61 is estimated at about 625 million bushels, slightly above that of the previous year. Exports are assumed at about 500 million bushels, only slightly different from the 510 million estimated for 1959-60. This would leave a carryover July 1, 1961 of about 1,435 million bushels, about 150 million bushels above the estimated carryover this July and a new record.

With this record supply and carryover in prospect, farmers will vote July 21 for the eighth successive year on whether to have a system of marketing quotas for the 1961 wheat crop.

If quotas are approved as a result of a two-thirds favorable vote, producers who stay within the acreage allotted for their farms will be eligible for the full announced level of price support which is not less than $1.78 per bushel.

Producers who exceed their farm acreage allotments will not be eligible for price support and will be subject to marketing quota penalties if (1) they have more than 15 acres for harvest, or (2) they have not signed applications for exemption under the feed wheat program.

If quotas are not approved by wheat growers in the referendum, the law provides a wheat price-support level at 50 per cent of the July 1, 1961 parity for producers who stay within their acreage allotments. There will be no penalties for excess production.

Honored on Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Milburn of Cincinnati, Ohio, have been visiting relatives and friends in Sedalia, and on Sunday, July 10, a dinner was given for Mrs. Milburn on her birthday at Flat Creek Inn, which was a complete surprise.

Attending the dinner were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Milburn, and Miss Nora Gehlken, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milburn, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Russell, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Herrick, St. Louis; Dr. and Mrs. Richard Stamy, Norway Iowa; Mrs. Harold Cowherd, Kansas City; Mrs. Jack McCashin, Mrs. Harold Tomlin and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Countz.

Spot grazing by livestock can be another good reason for mowing. If you are rotation grazing pastures, mowing a pasture right after you move animals off will even up growth so there will be less tendency to spot graze when they are turned back in. Even if you aren't set up for rotation grazing, clipping may help some in holding down on spot grazing. When spot grazing gets bad, you know, animals graze only in spots that have been grazed before.

Many mow new seeded stands, of course, when weeds threaten to smother seedling grasses and legumes. While most of this mowing already will have been done this year, there are some fields where it may still be of value. The taller weeds are allowed to

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

Lowry City's Streak Broken

Smith, Shepherd Star for Chiefs

Larry Shepherd and Everett Smith led a strong Sedalia attack as the Chiefs broke Lowry City's 14 game winning streak with a neat 6-4 victory. Shepherd collected three hits including a two-run double. He had three RBI's for the evening. Everett Smith pitched a fine game and picked up his second win of the season. He went the entire route on the mound, scattered nine hits and walked only two men. He also doubled in the winning runs in the ninth.

Lowry City scored single tallies in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings. Sedalia's scoring was bunched into two big innings. In the bottom half of the fourth the Chiefs sent three across home plate on three hits and an error. Shepherd did the big damage with a two-run double.

The Chiefs rallied in the ninth when Lowry City's starter, Pete Tribble, blew up. Raymond Schnakenberg opened the inning with a single. Shepherd followed with an infield hit and Dick Horner laid down a perfect bunt down the third base line. No one was able to handle it, and the bases were loaded. Gary Bradley was elected as a pinch hitter for Vern Ditton and bunted the ball to the third baseman on the first pitch. The throw to home was late, and the game was tied with the bases loaded and no one out. At this point Lowry City brought in Bob Thompson from left field to relieve starter Tribble. The first man to face him was Everett Smith. Being a fair hitter, Smith was allowed to hit for himself. And he iced up his own ball game with a big double to score the winning runs.

Pete Tribble was the loser, allowing 11 hits and three walks. Sedalia will play Sweet Springs at 8 p.m. Thursday at Liberty Park.

Musial Into Fifth Spot On Hit Parade

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unaware of anything unusual, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals stepped to the plate Sunday. Chicago Cub pitcher Bob Anderson fired a fast ball and Musial rapped a sharp single to right field. A few moments later, 28,661 fans at Busch Stadium erupted with a roar.

Musial had just clubbed the 3-252nd hit of his major league career. It put him in fifth place in the all-time major league hit parade, ahead of Nap Lajoie.

Musial tied Lajoie's mark of 3-251 in the second inning of the second game of a doubleheader against Chicago. That hit was also a single to right.

Later, Musial said he didn't know he was about to surpass Lajoie. He laughed and said: "Maybe it's a good thing I didn't know about it. I might have gotten nervous and missed."

Base hits these days are not unusual for the 39-year-old Musial. His 2-4 performance Sunday left him with a batting average of .312, highest on the team. He did not play in the first game.

Since returning to regular status about a month ago, Musial has collected a barrage of hits. But he seldom hits the long ball anymore. The safeties are usually singles. Musial has been batting .472 on 17 hits in 36 efforts.

Asked if he had made any change in his stance of style, Musial replied "No. I just don't go for the long ball anymore but then I haven't been for some time."

He emphasized that while consigned to the bench he had kept in top physical shape and took extra batting practice whenever there was an opportunity.

The Cubs seem to be playing straight man for Musial and his records. In a game against them at Chicago in 1958 Stan came in as a pinch hitter and batted out No. 3,000. He was sitting on the bench then because the Cardinals wanted him to get it at St. Louis but when the situation grew dangerous they sent for him.

Sunday's Cardinal sweep of the doubleheader put the Redbirds in third place in the National League. The Cardinals won their first game 4-0 and the second 6-1. In the first match, veteran Larry Jackson held the Cubs to four hits. Rookie Ray Sadecki limited them to six in the second contest.

It was Jackson's 11th victory against eight defeats and Sadecki

Leonard Defeats Art Wall

Sinks Birdie Putt For First Place In Western Open

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Stan Leonard has been playing so badly that he almost canceled his entry in the Western Open. When he showed up, he said that "the last thing in my mind is winning."

But Leonard won, nevertheless, and won over golf's hottest player and one of the game's most successful blue-chip performers.

The balding Canadian, 45, who had to wait until he was 40 before he could afford to join the professional tour, defeated Art Wall Jr. on the first extra hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday.

Leonard won it with a six-foot birdie putt after Wall had just missed an eight-footer. They tied at 10-under-par 278 after 72 holes.

It took a sensational stretch run by Leonard and a stunning slump by Wall to force the playoff. Wall, former Masters champion, had not been over par in his last 10 rounds.

His 204 total after 54 holes—helped out by a record-breaking 66 in the second round—gave him a four-stroke lead. Leonard was tied with five others, six shots back.

Leonard started rolling in birdie putts, and Wall kept slipping. Leonard caught him at 15 with a birdie, but Wall went one-up at 16 with his only birdie of the day.

Wall lost it on the 18th, his six-foot putt rimming the cup for a bogie-five after he had been in a trap with his second shot.

"I was watching—and dying," said Leonard.

Wall finished with 74, 2 over par at Western Golf and Country Club's 6,800-yard layout. Leonard, who got in only nine holes of practice here before the $25,000 tournament began, closed with 68.

Leonard's $5,000 triumph was his first on the U.S. circuit since April, 1958, when he won the Las Vegas Tournament of Champions. Wall collected $2,500 for second.

Beman Sinks Birdie Putt on Final Hole

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Two strokes down with five holes to play, Deane Beman sank a thrilling 21-foot putt for a birdie on the final hole and won the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament Sunday. He defeated Jacky Cupit 1-up.

Cupit, of Longview, Tex., Saturday sank a 66-foot birdie putt for a 1-up semifinal victory over La-baron Harris Jr. of Stillwater, Okla.

Beman is last year's British Amateur champion and lives in Bethesda, Md.

is now 4-4. The Cards have won 13 of their last 17 games.

At Kansas City, Tom Brewer of the Boston Red Sox hit a home run and held the Athletics to eight hits as the Sox won their seventh straight victory. The score was 4-2.

The Athletics bunched three singles in the fourth inning for their first run and Pete Daley, on base with a triple, scored in the eighth when Marv Throneberry pinch-hit an infield bouncer.

Russ Nixon hit his fourth homer of the season for the Sox in the seventh.

The Red Sox swept the three-game series at Kansas City and moved three and a half games ahead of the basement dwelling Athletics.

Kiddie Korps Hot; Solly's Boys Shine

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
If the St. Louis Cardinals keep on winning, Solly Hemus will be in line for a bonus instead of the bum's rush.

Hemus was a Red Bird on a hot seat a few weeks back when the Cards had lead in their wings. His job was in danger as the St. Louis "youth movement" flourished.

By winning 13 of their last 17 games, the Cardinals suddenly have become a factor in the National League pennant race. Two victories over Chicago Sunday, 6-0 and 8-1, left them in third place, only six games off the pace.

Ray Jackson, an "old folks" on the staff at 29, pitched the shut-out, a four-hitter, and 19-year-old Ray Sadecki, a $50,000 bonus boy, won the second with a six-hitter.

Just to prove the kiddie korps hasn't taken over completely, Stan Musial came up with two singles in the second game that gave him a career total of 3,252 hits, fifth in the all time standings. He passed Hall of Famer Nap Lajoie, who had 3,251.

Pittsburgh's lead was cut to 2½ games when second-place Milwaukee thumped Philadelphia 7-3 while the Pirates were dividing two with Cincinnati. The Reds took the first game 6-5, but 25-year-old Tom Cheney, recently recalled from the Columbus farm, blanked the Reds with four hits in the second game, 5-0.

Willie Mays' eighth-inning triple stopped the march of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who have lost only two of their last 10. Mays' hit gave San Francisco a 5-4 victory. During the game, the slumping Giants announced that first baseman Willie McCovey had been shipped to the Tacoma farm of the Pacific Coast League.

Chicago moved up in the American League race when both New York and Cleveland, running one-two, dropped doubleheaders. Detroit whipped the Yanks 12-2 and 3-2, and Washington took two from Cleveland, 3-2 and 5-3. Chicago moved into third place, only two games out of first, by beating Baltimore 2-1 and 14-2. Tom Brewer's first home run of the year helped Boston win its seventh straight, 4-2, over Kansas City. Jackson's first game victory was his 11th of the year. In CINCINNATI (AP) — Sandra Haynie, a 17-year-old Austin, Tex., high school girl, is the 1960 Women's Trans-Mississippi golf champion but there is some doubt she'll defend her title next year.

The five-foot, three-inch Sandra says she may not finish high school and reports were that she intends to turn professional.

Miss Haynie, who plays with all the methodical calmness of another Texan — Ben Hogan — won the Trans-Miss title here Saturday with a 4 and 3 final match victory over Judy Eller, 20-year-old University of Miami co-ed from Old Hickory, Tenn.

the fifth inning they scored five runs as rookie Julian Javier drove in two with a single and Ken Boyer tripled with the bases loaded. Bill White hit home run No. 10.

Sadecki completed the job on the Cubs, who scored a total of two runs in their four-game series at St. Louis. Musial's hits were the big noise, but White had a double and single to drive in two in the defeat of Bob Anderson.

Eddie Mathews hit his 19th homer and Lew Burdette won his 10th for Milwaukee as Del Crandall, who had a perfect four-hit night Saturday, ran his string to seven with three singles.

Cheney saved the day for the Pirates with his four-hitter to beat Cal McLish after Don Newcombe was chased by an umpire before he threw a pitch. Newk became involved in a dispute about a long, loose left sleeve on his sweatshirt, to which the Pirates objected.

Dick Groat had seven hits in the doubleheader, four in the first game defeat when Vern Law lost to Bob Purkey.

The Giants' victory was only their second in their last 10. It dropped the Dodgers into fourth place.

A couple of blocks from the bright new Olympic Sports Palace they will find an exhibition of Sports in Art and History.

It's a collection of some of the finest art objects dealing with sports in Italian museums: paintings, sculptures, vases, mosaics, costumes, etchings, and books.

The exhibition—in a great hall built by Benito Mussolini for a world's fair that never was held—was formally opened last week by President Giovanni Gronchi. It will remain open for four months.

A track and field section has famous statues of discus throwers from the Roman museums. Frescoes from the Etruscan ruins north of Rome are there too.

Ancient Greek and Roman vases show runners at the original Greek Olympic Games.

One section shows ancient ball games—from girls in tight brasieres playing catch in a Roman gymnasium to girls playing tennis in full 19th century dress.

Several sections give a glimpse of such sports as swimming, canoeing, wrestling and boxing, all still part of the Olympic Games.

Sievers, Shaw, Wynn Star

White Sox Rolling, Vie for AL Lead

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

When the Chicago White Sox were in spring training the experts wrote that Roy Sievers' hitting and the pitching of men like Bob Shaw and Early Wynn was going to help them win another American League pennant.

Wynn didn't win a game until May 15. Sievers was batting .182 on May 30 and Shaw had been just so-so. The experts were looking inexact.

But the White Sox are rolling now, sitting in third place only a half-game behind the runner-up Cleveland Indians and only two games off the New York Yankee pace.

Sievers extended his consecutive game batting streak to 20 Sunday with a game-winning single in the 2-1 first game victory over Baltimore and a two-run homer and single in the 14-2 second game romp. Shaw won the opener with a six-hitter and Wynn won his fifth behind an 18-hit attack in the second.

While the White Sox were quickening their steps, the Yanks and Indians both continued their slumps. Detroit knocked off the Yanks twice, 12-2 and 3-2. New York has lost eight of its last 11 games. Washington beat Cleveland 3-2 and 5-3 after dropping 10 in a row to the Indians.

Boston ran its winning streak to seven with a 4-2 victory at Kansas City, where Pitcher Tom Brewer won his sixth and also hit his first home run of the year.

St. Louis elbowing its way into third place in the National League, six games off the top, by beating Chicago twice, 6-0 and 8-1. Pittsburgh dropped the opener to Cincinnati 6-5, but came back to win the second 5-0. Milwaukee cut the Pirates' lead to 2½ games by slugging the Phillies 7-3. San Francisco knocked Los Angeles into fourth place with a 5-4 decision on Willie Mays' eighth-inning triple.

Sievers' winning single in the first game at Chicago after catcher Clint Courtney had lost his foul in the sun. Two walks by loser Steve Barber and a sacrifice set the stage for Sievers' "second chance" hit. Sievers slammed his 14th homer with a man on in the first inning of the second game. Gene Freese added a three-run homer in the sixth.

Frank Lary, a nonwinner since June 15, beat the Yanks in the first game as the Tigers rapped Ralph Terry and two successors for 11 hits, including homers by Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash.

Brewer's eight-hit pitching and homer did the job for the Red Sox, but Russ Nixon also hit a home run to help hang a seventh defeat on Dick Hall.

Castro's Men Defecting At An Increasing Pace

HAVANA (AP) — Since last July diplomats and officials of the Castro Finance Ministry's revolutionary regime have been defecting at a steadily increasing pace, most of them with the complaint that the new Cuban government is "going Communist."

Many of the former Castro officials have joined opposition groups, by defecting abroad or by taking political asylum in foreign embassies here and leaving the country under the protection of a formal safe conduct.

Most prominent of the recent defectors was Jose Miro Cardona, Cuban leader statesman and first prime minister of the Castro regime. Miro Cardona resigned as ambassador-designate to the United States and took asylum in the Argentine Embassy.

Here is a partial list of those who have abandoned the Castro revolution:

July 7, 1959—Major Pedro Diaz Lanz, chief of Castro's air force, flew to the United States after resigning with a public complaint of Communist infiltration of the Cuban armed forces.

July 17—President Manuel Urrutia forced to resign by Castro for making anti-Communist statements. Urrutia and his family since have lived under house arrest in the outskirts of Havana.

Oct. 19—Maj. Hubert Matos, top Castro army commander and chief of the military organization in Camaguey Province, resigned because of Communist infiltration.

He subsequently was tried by a Castro military court and sentenced to 30 years in prison for treason.

Jan. 23, 1960—Joaquin Sanjens Perdomo, former director general

Wheat Farmers Decision Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wheat farmers will decide in a referendum Thursday whether they want to continue the present wheat price support program for the 1961 crop.

If marketing quotas for the 1961 crop are approved by the needed two-thirds majority, government controls will continue. Farmers who comply with their acreage allotments will be eligible for price supports of $1.78 a bushel, which is 75 per cent of parity.

However, if the wheat farmers vote down quotas, price supports would drop to 50 per cent of parity for those growers who comply with allotments. But farmers who plant beyond their allotments would receive no price supports.

If quotas are approved, all farmers in commercial wheat states with more than 15 acres of wheat who exceed their acreage allotments will be subject to penalties on the excess acreage.

Efforts in Congress to write new legislation affecting the 1961 wheat crop failed earlier this year. The Senate voted for a bill to hold the support level at 75 per cent of parity and cut the acreage 20 per cent. But the House rejected this and a bill of its own to raise the levels to 85 per cent of parity and reduce acreage by 25 per cent.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two women passersby were injured by flying debris during an explosion which destroyed a vacant house in north side Kansas City Saturday night.

Injured were Mrs. Josephine Angelo, 60, and Mrs. Rose Hurst, 27, both of Kansas City. Mrs. Angelo was virtually buried by the debris.

The two-story brick and frame dwelling burned following the explosion, setting fire to a house next door. A gas main leak was blamed.

March 31—Lt. Cmdr. Jaime Varela Sales, Cuban naval attaché to Mexico, defected, to be followed April 4 by Capt. Manuel Villafana, Cuban air attaché to Mexico. Both asked asylum in the United States, claiming Communist infiltration of the Cuban armed forces.

April 4—The ambassador to the European office of the United Nations, Andrea Vargas Gomez, resigned.

June 15—Ambassador to Canada, Luis Barak, resigned.

June 22—Sergio Rojas Santamarina, ambassador to London, took asylum.

July 6—Jose Miro Cardona, ambassador-designate to the United States, took asylum in the Argentine Embassy. Francisco Pividal, ambassador-designate to El Salvador, also resigned.

July 11—Cuba's ambassador to West Germany, Eric Aguero Montoro, asked political asylum.

The Castro government charged all defectors with treason and said some were guilty of embezzling Cuban government funds.

Harry W. Sieckermann posted $10,000 bond Friday. Mrs. Mary Lana Goolsby, 52, and Mrs. Viola Lila Waelter, 49, produced $5,000 bond each Saturday. All three are residents of St. Louis County. They were arrested May 17.

Beads Strangle Baby

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A baby accidentally strangled to death in his canvas swing, apparently against beads that were to keep him amused.

The infant was Reginald Wayne Bunt, 3 1/2-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Bunt.

Mrs. Bunt told detectives she placed the boy in a swing and went down to the basement Sunday to help her husband.

Bunt said he went upstairs about 15 minutes later for a cigarette and found his son slumped forward in the swing, his neck resting on a strand of beads across the swing.

A doctor said the child apparently fell asleep in the swing, eased forward against the strand of beads and strangled to death.

Washington Sure to Change With Whomever Is Elected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington just won't be the same any more, no matter who wins the election. The wreckers and the builders are all over the place.

The faithful old Capitol dome cringes under a red paint petticoat. A creamy new white coat, gradually, is creeping down from the top.

The Capitol's east front extension has yet to emerge from a maze of construction gear.

The fancy new Senate Office Building neighboring the Senate will be matched by an even newer House Office Building.

Southwest from the Capitol toward the Potomac River block after block of dilapidated structures look as if they had been hit by a Khrushchev rocket. The old wharf sections, once a favorite for sea food lovers, are mostly piles of rubble.

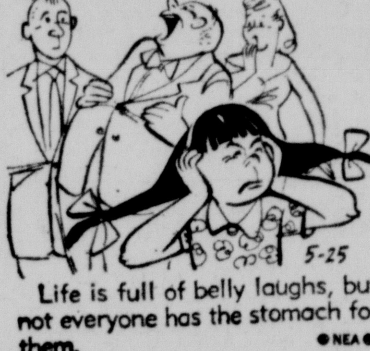

Great plans are afoot for this southwest section: new federal buildings, big apartment projects, homes and shopping centers.

The Mall between the Capitol and the Washington Monument is cluttered with construction for a new Museum of History for the Smithsonian Institution and a tunnel project to carry traffic under the Mall and connect with a new freeway.

Soybean Futures Help Marketing

The functioning of the soybean futures market helped with the orderly marketing of the 1959 soybean crop at prices above the government price-support level, according to information received at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

The statement is based, the ASC office said, on a report by the Commodity Exchange Authority summarizing soybean futures trading on the Chicago Board of Trade between October 1959 and April 1960.

The report shows that the bulk of the 1959 soybean crop moved into commercial channels by April 30, 1960, and farmers placed smaller quantities of soybeans under Government price supports than in any season since 1955.

Largest participation in soybean futures, both speculative and hedging, came from producing and processing areas in the North Central States, the CEA report shows. Illinois, including Chicago, had the largest number of transfers; Iowa the second largest. Numerous traders were located in Minnesota, Missouri, Indiana, New York, and California.

Rejects 5 Cent Offer; Attacks With Hatchet

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—An offer of protection for five cents was declined by James Singleton, who told police he then was attacked with a hatchet.

Singleton, a Negro, told patrolman B.D. Wells that the offer was made by a stranger who walked up to him on the street Saturday night.

Singleton was not seriously injured, although he had a knot on his head and cuts on his arm and shoulder.

U2 Planes Providing Scientific Data On Nuclear Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flights by U2 planes have provided science with valuable information of the kind of global fallout a nuclear war might produce, the government reports.

The low-ringed planes of the type downed by the Soviet Union last May 1 are still gathering information in their high altitude sampling program.

After the tempest stirred up by the May Day spy plane flight, the government announced that such flights over the Soviet Union had been discontinued.

on the high-altitude sampling program was released Sunday night by the Defense Department. It voiced the government's thanks for the right to conduct U2 flights over Argentina, Canada, Mexico, Venezuela, Brazil, Bolivia and Paraguay.

Blast Evidence Being Sought

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — With Negro leaders pressing for an answer, police today searched through evidence in an attempt to solve a blast that ripped through a Negro residential section Saturday night.

Authorities said a damaged alarm clock found near the scene indicates a dynamite time bomb may have set off the explosion, which tore a large hole in the ground, damaged several houses, and shattered windows in nearby businesses.

... was hurt in the blast, which came only two nights after an unfinished house had burned in another Negro settlement 10 miles away. Deputy State Fire Marshal Raymond Hixon called the house-burning arson. Officers said there was no apparent connection between the two incidents.

Mann May Replace Rubottom as Assistant Secretary of State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources say Thomas C. Mann may replace Roy R. Rubottom Jr. as assistant secretary of state in charge of inter-American affairs. Mann now is assistant secretary for economic affairs.

The State Department has not confirmed the report.

Such a change might reflect a recent shift in U. S. policy toward Latin America, including a hardening attitude toward Cuba and an economic aid plan.

The diplomatic sources say that Rubottom would become ambassador to Argentina, replacing Willard Beaulac. The State Department previously denied a Buenos Aires report that Rubottom would become ambassador there.

Man and Wife Killed In Columbia Crash

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Pasley of Decatur, Ill., were killed this morning when their automobile, driven by Pasley, crashed into the concrete abutment of a bridge over Hominy Branch on Interstate 70 two miles east of Columbia. Only the Pasley car was involved in the accident, and both its passengers were dead at the scene. The impact was so great that the concrete bridge structure was cracked from top to bottom.

There were no skid marks, the highway patrol said, indicating that Pasley apparently was not aware of the impending crash.

At Odds With Republicans

Rockefeller Is Enroute To the GOP Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller headed for this convention city today, at odds with fellow Republicans on several points including his refusal to second the nomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the GOP National Convention.

Every current sign points to Nixon's nomination by acclamation at the convention, which opens July 25.

But Rockefeller, hailed by Republicans as a bright, new light in the party after his upset election victory in New York in 1958, has kept himself out of this mainstream of Republican activity.

Although agreeing that Nixon "for all practical purposes" is the nominee, Rockefeller has kept himself open to a draft. Some think his arrival today with a large corps of advisers and consultants marks the beginning of a last-ditch effort to win the nomination.

Rockefeller is chairman of the 96-vote New York convention delegation, which he so far has held neutral. He may clarify his position today at a news conference, scheduled to be televised live in the East at 6:15 p.m. EDT.

Rockefeller will appear Tuesday before a committee drafting the 1960 Republican platform. The committee, headed by Charles H. Percy, Chicago business executive, will organize Tuesday morning.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, Republican national chairman, and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona also will appear before the committee Tuesday.

Rockefeller will urge the committee to adopt his views on subjects ranging from nuclear testing—He wants it resumed—to medical care for the aged which he thinks should be handled through existing social security machinery.

On these and several other points he is in conflict with the national Republican administration. He has said much has been left undone in the fields of civil rights, national defense and foreign policy, among others.

Rockefeller has refused consistently to endorse Nixon or state without qualification whether he thinks the vice president is fully qualified to become president.

In a television interview in New York Rockefeller said he had turned down an invitation to second Nixon's nomination. He declined to say who extended the invitation. Rockefeller repeated his long-standing statement he would not become an active candidate for the nomination or accept second place.

This refusal to endorse Nixon or accept second place has touched off GOP charges Rockefeller is a divisive influence in the party.

Goldwater, a leading conservative and frequent Rockefeller critic who has some backing of his own for the presidential nomination, said in Phoenix, Ariz., he would ask delegates friendly to him to support the party's conservative wing if a convention fight developed. Goldwater mentioned no names, but it was understood that he would support Nixon over Rockefeller.

The main issue between the contractors and the Hoisting Engineers was a demand by the engineers for a central hiring hall controlled by the union.

It was not disclosed immediately how either of the issues was settled, nor were the other terms of the agreements available.

The million-dollar-a-day loss estimate was made by City Manager Harry Fleming. Unemployment caused by the strike has been estimated at 40,000 persons, and the total wage loss at 35 million dollars.

Kansas City Strike End Appears Near

KANSAS CITY (AP) — An end appears in prospect in a construction industry strike which has been costing greater Kansas City about one million dollars a day.

The last two major unions involved in the dispute, Bricklayers Local 18 of Kansas City, Kan., and Hoisting Engineers Local 101, reached agreements with the two contractor groups, Home Builders Assn. and the Heavy Constructors Assn. Sunday night.

The bricklayers signed a five-year contract, Dan Sullivan, president of the Hoisting Engineers, said he had received a set of proposals and would present them to his local tonight.

Hoisting Engineers reject earlier proposals but they were expected to get favorably on the new ones.

The dispute has halted most major construction in this area for nearly 15 weeks.

Shutdowns began April 1, when contracts between 18 construction trade unions and the two contractor groups expired.

Much of the time construction has been stopped because ready-mix concrete plants, whose operators belong to the Home Builders Assn., have refused to deliver concrete. Contractors contended that piece-meal settlement of the disputes left them open to strikes at critical times and said they would prefer to shut down the industry at their convenience, not the unions'. At other times jobs have been shut down by union pickets.

A key issue between the Kansas City, Kan., bricklayers and the contractors was the union's demand for a welfare package. Local 18 held out for it although a larger, brother local in Kansas City, Mo., signed without it.

Salesman Is Charged With Passing a Bogus Bill in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Federal authorities have charged a used car salesman with passing a counterfeit $100 bill in payment for a bottle of beer July 10.

Charles Moore of St. Louis was named Friday in an information issued by US Commissioner Irwin H. Gamble. His bond was set at $5,000.

Secret Service agents said similar bills, each fuzzy in detail, have been passed in Kansas recently.

Food, Troop Haulers Called Intervention On Aggression Side

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany today called the use of 24 U. S. Globemaster transports for the airlift to the Congo "intervention on the side of the aggressors."

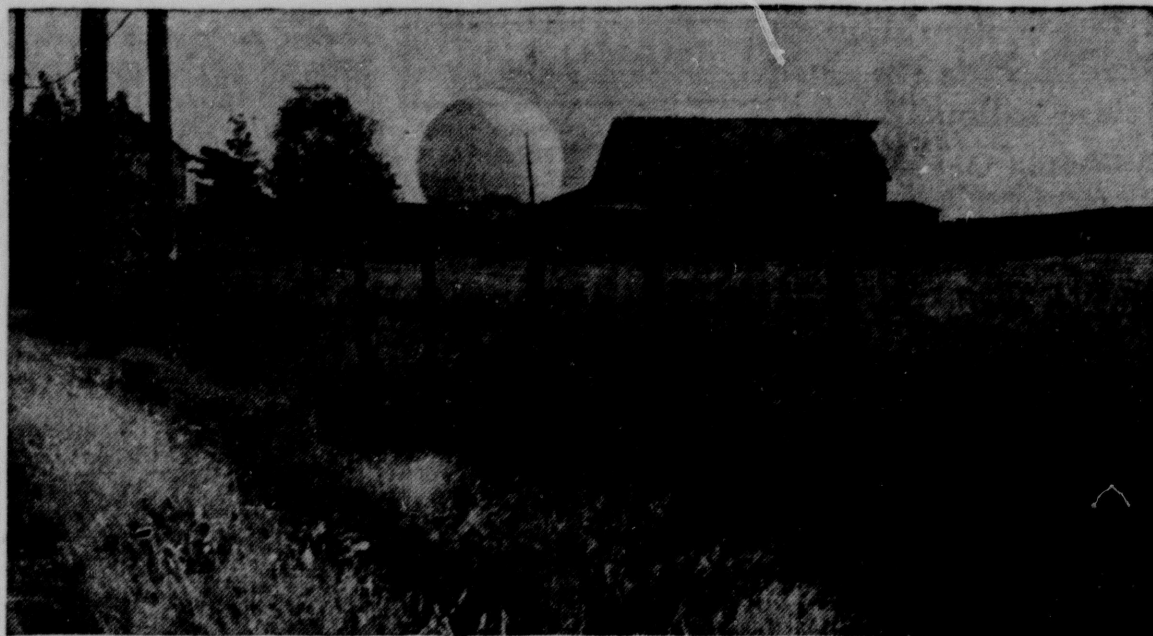

ADN, the East German news agency, did not mention that the planes are being used to transport U.N. troops and food.

Convention Fatigue Hospitalizes Blair

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Convention fatigue—that's the doctors' phrase—has put Gov. James T. Blair Jr. of Missouri in the hospital.

Blair was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Saturday after he had become ill at the Democratic National Convention. Examination showed nothing seriously wrong, physicians said, and the governor announced he was feeling fine Sunday.

He'll be discharged in a day or so, hospital officials said.

LITTLE MOON OF MOORESTOWN—What is that space-age shape disturbing the bucolic serenity of this Moorestown, N.J., farm? Surely not a giant squash. No, it's an RCA prototype radome, which is a 15-story-high sphere enclosing the mechanisms which track missiles.

Former Slave's Birthplace Is Commemorated

DIAMOND, Mo. (AP) — George Washington Carver, a Negro who rose from slavery to become a world renowned agricultural scientist, was commemorated at his birthplace Sunday.

If he had lived, Carver would have been 100. He was born a slave on the Moses Carver farm near Diamond, and took the last name of his owner as his own.

An estimated 1,700 visitors attended Sunday's dedication of the Carver national monument three miles southwest of Diamond, on the site of the old Carver farm, in the foothills of the Ozarks.

Comprising the monument are a $150,000 visitors center and other facilities, including a statue of Carver as a boy.

Principal speakers at the dedication were Roger C. Ernst, assistant secretary of the interior, and Lt. Gov. Edward V. Long of Missouri.

"Perhaps the most inspiring story of the Carver story," Ernst said, "is the succession of generous people who took an interest in the former slave boy, recognizing in him the genius which we are honoring."

Carver died Jan. 5, 1943, at the Tuskegee, Ala., Institute for Negroes, where he was a teacher and research scientist.

Storage Facility Loan Available

The Commodity Credit Corporation storage facility loan is available again this year for farmers who need additional storage capacity on their farms, according to C. A. Staples, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The loans are available to provide new farm storage facilities for most storable crops. County ASC committees are authorized to approve applications for loans up to 80 per cent of the cost of storage structures. The loans are payable in four annual installments beginning one year after the loan is made. The rate of interest is four per cent. Applications may be filed at the county ASC office.

Since the inauguration of the storage facility loan in 1949 more than 126,000 loans had been made to farmers as of April 30, 1960. The loans helped finance storage structures with an aggregate capacity of about 498.5 million bushels.

New Record High

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The temperature has hit 103 degrees for three days in a row in Salt Lake City, each time a record for the date.

Sunday's 103 broke a mark for July 17 set in 1934.

Record keepers say the highest temperature ever recorded in Salt Lake was a reading of 106 degrees, set July 21, 1931.

The American War Mothers held a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Coffee Pot Cafe. State president, Mrs. William Worstenholm of Maplewood, was the speaker.

Mrs. Worstenholm told of her trip to Arlington Cemetery on May 9, stating that the American War Mothers flag was the only one displayed there. She described the National Headquarters Home and the tea served at the open house May 8.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Charles Sebek, president, who resigned since she is leaving soon for Streeter, Ill., to reside. Mrs. Sebek was presented a gift in appreciation of her leadership the past year.
